BOOKSTORE BEAUTY—The BYU Bookstore offers many conveniences to students. The bookstore comprises a larger area than ever before.

Student Supply Earns Beauty, Design Labels

Were you ever in the bookstore once crammed in the basement of the College Building? If you were you are probably amazed at the difference in the bookstore today.

It not only is eleven times as big as the old, but its beauty and design is on par with the other buildings on campus.

THE INTERIOR OF the bookstore was designed by a New York architect. Eight different colors including pink and orange have been used on the main floor of the store.

This and other features make it very modern. At the time of its completion, the Students' Supply Association was considered to be one of the most outstanding bookstores in the country.

PICTURES OF THE Students' Supply have appeared at various times in a national college store magazine. In the recent issue of this magazine is a picture of all the employees of the bookstore along with an informative article about the store.

Bookstore managers from all over the United States have come to Provo to observe the bookstore. They have been interested not only in its beauty of design but also in the method of selling.

The Brigham Young University Bookstore was one of the first in the West to have complete self-service. This and other pioneering stores have shown the value of this method, and now most of the college stores are using it.

STRANGELY enough, the Students' Supply Association not only has self-service but it is unique for its number of employees. Some 92 people are employed, which includes 68 working part time. This is considered

Helpful Hints Given for Meats

Heritage Hall and off-campus coeds, here are some handy hints for preserving meat:

Remove ground beef or hamburger from carton immediately because the paper absorbs juices and flavor. Store the meat in a covered dish and it will keep well for two days. The meat can also be shaped into patties, separated with wax paper and frozen.

Place leftover meat in a covered dish in the refrigerator. Do not grind or chop it until you are ready to use it. Save the gravy in a covered jar in the refrigerator so it will be ready to season, hash, meat pie, or sandwiches.

Bacon keeps its sweet, smoky flavor up to two weeks if carefully wrapped in the original package. Remove only what is needed and put right back in the refrigerator.

Luncheon Planned By Phi Kappa Phi

A luncheon for Phi Kappa Phi members will be held Wednesday in the club room of the Smith Bldg at noon. The program will feature a discussion of current topics of interest to the organization. The meal will cost 75 cents a person.
